LE GRAND MAZARIN'S LATEST 'ARTIST IN RESIDENCE': HELENA SOUBEYRAND

Hélène Soubeyrand is the latest artist to take part in Le Grand Mazarin 'Artist in Residence' window takeover programme, which aims to showcase the Parisian art scene.

From 23rd April, and lasting for three months, the artist will transport passers-by and lovers of the Marais into her creative world, that celebrates the power of femininity and universal love through a symbolic aesthetic.

The specially dressed windows reveal themselves to visitors taking a stroll through the Marais, starting from Rue de la Verrerie.

Driven by performance, Hélène Soubeyrand has developed a unique technique of ambidextrous, symmetrical portraiture, created in acrylic or ink. For her collaboration with Le Grand Mazarin, she explored the theme of "Cycle" and femininity.

"The windows are arranged as a triptych to illustrate the cycle. A creative cycle allows light to enter and brings us together in the universe: our uniqueness, our stories, our sanctuaries, and the importance of loving and respecting ourselves. I wanted to celebrate women as the source of humanity. To portray them in a utopian world as a shield against darkness. When the outside world feels too dark, it becomes difficult to bear. Art and creation are a refuge in which I believe," explains Hélène Soubeyrand.

Once again, Le Grand Mazarin is honouring an artist whose world and creations deeply resonate with the artistic values of the Maisons Pariente collection.

The hotel will host two creative workshops, one on 5th June during a breakfast, and another on 11th June for an arty aperitif with the artist herself.
